Lim Masulin
Founder & CEO
BYO Living

Lim Masulin is "ASEAN Senior Mastercraft Designer" and Japan's "Good Design Award" winner who invented BYO Living's weaving technology for energy-saving and sustainable architecture.

His recent works are featured at Four Seasons Resort in Okinawa, Christian Dior Cyprus, Bali International Airport, Toyota Headquarters in Indonesia, and others. BYO Living works with top-tier international architect firms, including Kengo Kuma, Kisho Kurokawa, and Kousou Inc. from Japan.

BYO Living is researching with international institutions such as Changi Airport in Singapore to recycle and repurpose operational waste, such as baggage conveyor belts, to create new weaving solutions for their upcoming public facility.
